Join us for this free one-day workshop that will support participants to explore the experience of hearing voices. This will include understanding different phases of voice hearing that some people experience, research on the frequency of voice hearing, and a variety of techniques and strategies to support people who are struggling with this or other similar phenomenon.

Registration required by e-mailing info@westernmassrlc.org

Both Peter and Shaun come to us from England (cool accents and all). They have each personally experienced voice hearing and paranoia. Peter also operates his own agency, Asylum Associates, is a founding member of the Paranoia Network and holds teaching/research posts at multiple educational institutions, including Manchester University.
